

GAS WATCH 195.

AGL takes on the Government.

AGL has clearly refused to accept Premier O'Farrell's exclusion of the Hunter Vineyards from CSG exploration.

And continues its drilling program.

AGL today sent out invitations to "small, by-invite-only gatherings" to "peek" at "one of our operational sites" in Broke.

What is it that AGL doesn't get?

Premier O'Farrell has made it clear now, on more than one occasion, that no CSG projects will be approved in the winegrowing/tourism Critical Industry Cluster in the Hunter Valley. The Premier has made it abundantly clear that Broke, in particular, will be saved.

This has been confirmed by Member for the Upper Hunter, George Souris.

AGL has no social licence to operate in the Broke and Bulga communities.

Why does AGL continue its drilling program with a propaganda "peek" at an "operational" drilling site?

Why does AGL, in the words of Minister Hazzard, continue "wasting its shareholders money"?

AGLs attitude is impossible to comprehend.

Clearly AGL is still trying to convince the Broke and Bulga locals that it can put in a gasfield without ruining the environment, poisoning the water, destroying the rural ambience, and devaluing our properties.

This is just another way of AGL putting pressure on the Government. Either that, or it has its head firmly in the sand.

Ignore your invitation, if you get one – not many will. It would be a waste of both AGL's time and your own time to look at the new drillings.

In fact before you get an invite, contact their community relations manager acrocker@agl.com.au if you like, and also the General Manager of methane mining for AGL Mike Moraza mmoraza@agl.com.au and tell them both that you don't want them here, to give up fighting the Government, to give up fighting the community, and to just go away.
