

GAS WATCH 204.

AGL's claim of a "gas supply crisis" is nonsense.

Just another desperate attempt by AGL to panic the people and the Government into accepting that this filthy, fossil fuel is necessary.

What gas supply "crisis"?

	Consumption of natural gas in Australia:
Year:	2001	2004	2007	2009	2010
Billion cubic metres:	23.33	26.37	29.4	26.59	26.41

	Export of natural gas from Australia:
Year:	2001	2004	2007	2009	2010
Billion cubic metres:	9.744	10.66	19.91	22.3	24.7

Australia is exporting gas in almost identical amounts to the Country's actual consumption. There's oodles there for everybody. Australia's consumption has been dropping since 2007 and is back to 2004 levels. And don't think that the export won't continue. That is where this CSG will go, and that is where the money is for these coal seam methane miners.

AGL is treating us all, people, local Government and State Government with the utmost contempt, attempting to fool us into believing that there is this "gas supply crisis", a phrase they have only recently manufactured.

And as recently as today AGL has announced in the local press further drilling in the proposed vineyard critical industry cluster exclusion zone.

The methane miners simply can't be trusted with the truth.

FAREWELL AGL.
