

GAS WATCH 67.

AGL ENERGY!

“METHANE GAS COULD KILL THE HUNTER VALLEY!”

On 6th and 7th April we had a couple of people outside AGL Energy Headquarters at 101 Miller Street, North Sydney. They were there for a couple of hours as the employees arrived, and for a couple of hours at lunch time each day. One with signs and handing out pamphlets. The other as the Grim Reaper, which is how we see AGL ENERGY in respect of its actions at Broke in regard to the water tables and in relation to the risk of methane gas explosion and migration. We intend to make random appearances at the AGL ENERGY offices.

Our purpose is to let the employees and Directors of AGL ENERGY know that what they do from day to day at their office desks, is not just office work. To remind them that anything they do at their desks can:

- × affect the lives of ordinary people in the country;
- × threaten our fragile environment;
- × risk the contamination of, and the loss of, precious water supplies;
- × put school kids at risk from explosion.

We want the AGL ENERGY staff to think about that.

The handout pamphlet invited readers to look at our website, was headed “Methane gas could kill the Hunter Valley”, and said:

* PROTECT OUR KIDS *
* PROTECT OUR WATER *
* PROTECT OUR LAND *
* PROTECT OUR LIVELIHOODS *

AGL, through its ownership of Sydney Gas, is ignoring the irrefutable evidence that Methane Gas exploration and extraction is dangerous and has caused irreparable damage in other locations throughout the world.

AGL refuse to carry out an Environmental Impact Assessment
on it's exploration in your Hunter Valley.
